

LITTLE WORKS, USA

Handmade cards so beautiful - You won't want to give them away!

About Us

We, at Little Works USA, import and distribute handmade greeting cards from South Africa and Namibia. Proudly we support women by providing income through employment.

We also donate to Deep Roots/Girls' Scholarship Program - They strive to ensure that deserving youth, especially young women, in developing countries have access to education – a basic human right.

Our Mission Statement

Little Works' cards are imported from South Africa and Namibia. The cards are made by a dynamic group of multi-cultural artists & artisans working together. It is our mission to assist women and children in Africa through educational scholarships and by providing income through employment.

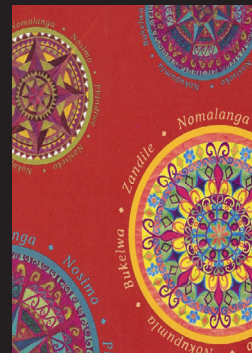

We donate to Deep Roots/Girls' Scholarship Program (Deep Roots.org) and One Percent for the Planet.

Salathiso Mandalas

Salathiso is a group of HIV positive, mostly single mothers, from Kayamandi township. Making greeting cards is a job creation project, providing an income for their families.

Members of the group are Nokupumla Mzili, Bukelwa Mpayipeli, Zandile Ntoyanto, Nomalanga Saki, Nosimo Sango-vana, Phindiwe Mntumi and Nosiseko Pongomo.

Since they began, the group is also benefitting from the printing of their mandala designs on beautiful gift wrap.

Salathiso means - We Light the Way

Cards from Namibia

A village in north central Namibia grows pearl millet and produces beautiful greeting cards. A wonderful story was written about us that you can view here on our website.

To view the article written by Jay follow this link:
<http://littleworksusa.com/Fair%20Trade%20Cards%20from%20Little%20Works.pdf>

Art and Compassion in an envelope is how Jay refers to the cards made in Namibia!

Another Deep Roots Scholar - Kristofina Nekundi (2005)

Where We Donate

We donate a percentage of ALL sales to Deep Roots/Girls' Scholarship Program. From their website ... "Deep Roots operates in Namibia (since 1998), Zambia (since 2000), Guatemala (since 2002), and Nepal (since 2003). It is a successful program empowering youth through education."

"All scholarship recipients, two-thirds of whom are girls, excel academically at their local schools, but unfortunately lack the financial resources to continue their education. A Deep Roots Scholarship makes it possible for them to go to school."

"Our newest program, the Girls' Scholarship Program (since 2007), is an extension of Deep Roots Namibia: It assists young women in Namibia to continue their education through university."

One Percent for the Planet

In addition to Deep Roots, we donate 1% to One Percent for the Planet.

Please read more about them on their website - www.onepercentfortheplanet.org

KEEP EARTH IN BUSINESS

How to Contact Us

Little Works, USA

11 Calle Festiva, Santa Fe, NM 87507

PH 505-424-0835

FX 866-256-7826

www.littleworksusa.com

info@littleworksusa.com

